Bridging Program

Summer is coming to an end, a brand-new school year is upon us. Prior to the start of classes, we organized a three-day orientation event for the new students to help them familiarize themselves with this future family and build friendships with their classmates.

The activities included academic knowledge sessions, team games, and community exploration. Over those few days, the newbies learned the art of teamwork and had a blast competing in games. They went from building LEGO robots to constructing mini Roman catapults.

Seeing them totally engrossed in the activities showed just how serious they were about having fun and soaking up new knowledge. Of course, we couldn't end it without an awards ceremony to applaud their hard work.

In addition to guiding the new students around the school, we also placed great importance on connecting with the community. Since most of the students do not live nearby, the teachers took them to explore the lively area of Kwun Tong to familiarize them with the surroundings of the school. Despite the weather gradually cooling down, our enthusiasm remains undiminished. Let us cheer on and embrace a fruitful new academic year together with the students!

Orientation Day cum PTA AGM

After two delays, we finally held the first orientation night cum annual general meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association on September 15th. The meeting aimed to help parents, especially those of new students, understand the school's system. Ms. Wong and Mr. Heung explained the academic requirements and disciplinary guidelines, as well as the guidance and support provided by the school, to encourage collaboration between parents and teachers in fostering the growth of the students.

The class teachers were also thrilled to meet the parents. It provided an opportunity for parents to learn about their children's learning lives, and for teachers to inquire about their home situations. This close partnership between home and school is highly valued by our institution.

During the meeting, we also elected this year's chairperson, Ms. D'SOUZA SARAH IVY, and we are delighted to continue working with this experienced lady. It was also mentioned that Hip Wo No.2 College is a great community, especially for non-Chinese students and parents, as the school provides extensive assistance. This echoes the sentiments emphasized by our principal Ms. Tse: Hip Wo No.2 College is a warm and welcoming family.

In the coming year, we look forward to maintaining close collaboration with parents, creating a better learning environment for the students, and experiencing both failures and successes together, ultimately enabling them to soar to new heights.
